TROUBLESHOOTING (PLEASE READ!):

ISSUE #1: My baby/child looks like the Original version from Stardew Valley

SOLUTION: The new Config file requires all options to be compatible with each other for the mod to work.
For example, if your config file reads as follows:

"Kippah": "True",
"Kippah Color Scheme": "Alex",
"Joja Male Toddler": "True",

In this case, SMAPI will not apply the changes and your child will look like the default toddler from Vanilla SVD. ("Kippah": "True" and "Joja Male Toddler": "True" are not compatible with each other, since both "Kippah" and "Joja" options cannot exist at the same time). Please be sure only one "True" option is chosen for baby/toddler sprites.

ISSUE #2: My baby/child looks like Abigail. How do I change this?

SOLUTION: Double-check you've entered the correct data into your config file. The default appearance for each baby/toddler will always be Abigail because that's how it's set up in the coding.

To change this, go into the "config" file and change the settings from "Abigail" to your preferred spouse, skin tone, or other preferred settings as listed here. Be sure to keep any " " symbols, as they are necessary for SMAPI and Content Patcher to read the information properly.

Any misspelling or incorrect syntax will either result in your baby/child looking like Abigail or the default vanilla baby/toddler in the base game.

ISSUE #3: My baby/child looks different from the options I've chosen in the Config file

SOLUTION: Babies and toddlers may also appear different from what you've chosen if your specifications don't match the requirements in the Content File. For example: If you'd like your male child to resemble Lance, but your child appears as Alex wearing a Kippah instead, your Config file may look like this:

"Kippah": "True",
"Kippah Color Scheme": "Alex",
"Male Toddler Color Scheme": "Lance",

In this case, because "Kippah" is labelled "True" in the Config file, SMAPI is overriding any other config details due to coding hierarchy. To have the Lance sprite apply instead of a Joja child, please be sure any "True"/"False" options are labelled "False". This also applies to any other Spouse-based sprites.

***If you are experiencing any issues with babies/toddlers in your save file, please double-check your Config file for any inconsistencies. Any initial questions or troubleshooting concerns regarding sprite appearances will always be redirected back to this page. Thank you*****
